Let us help

Our patient referral program makes it easy to refer patients. With digital referrals to refer a patient anytime, and patient progress reports to check-in to see how they're doing.

We're here for you to provide support when you need it — from program questions to technical support.

Who we are

For over 20 years, the New York State Smokers' Quitline has helped millions of New York State residents quit tobacco. Offering innovative tobacco treatment services and providing evidence-based, caring services.

For your patients

When you refer a patient to the Quitline for help quitting, they are:

- Called within 48 hours of receiving the referral.
- Offered up to three coaching sessions with a specially trained Quit Coach.
- Offered to receive up to a 4-week supply of nicotine replacement therapy.

Patients with behavioral health conditions, disability, cannabis or alcohol use, additional coaching and nicotine medications are offered. Pregnant patients are offered additional coaching.

Your patients can also engage with a Quit Coach one-on-one by text or chat, access interactive tools, and information to quit at any stage on our website.
